The Juniors-Prompt Prom Theme Seniors To See “A Night in Seville”

The Junior-Senior Prom, “A Night in Seville,” will be presented by the class of 1961 May 7 in the Alhambra Room of the Seville Hotel, Miami Beach.

Barry girls and their dates will dance to the music of Billy Bellack’s orchestra. Mr. Bellack’s group, which includes eight pieces and a vocalist, is currently featured at the Carillon Hotel. He is, however, a favorite with Alhambra Room guests.

The Juniors have coordinated the Spanish decor of the pink and charcoal hued ballrooms into their basic theme, “A Night in Seville.” Table decorations, favors, and bids will likewise follow the Spanish motif.

Loisnit Matos, Junior class social chairman, is general prom chairman. Programs are being handled by Jose Branco, decor chairman, Margarita Ruiz. Mary Ann Clancy is taking care of Chaparones. Kathy Pousovik is in charge of favors. Publicity and tickets are being handled by Mimi Reich and Terry Walter, respectively.

Reservations are now being taken. Rounded tables can be reserved which will seat five couples. Ribs for the underclassmen are 35 cents per couple, seniors and their escorts are admitted free of charge.

Freshmen Plan First Class Day

Apr. 28 is a date that is circled heavily on every freshman’s calendar. Why? It is their first class day at Barry. Under the guidance of Sr. Alisa Marie, O.P., the green freshmen are connecting several ideas for their first unified presentation to the faculty and student body.

The general co-chairmen for the day are Mary Beth Gannon and Kathy Dunigan. Various committee heads have been chosen. Heading props and costumes will be Martha Lawton; songs, Janelle Davis and Judy Henshaw; refreshments, Joan Jackson. Student directors for the program are Carol Kocanda and Betty Napierski. The script and theme committee is chaired by Connie Parker and Lee Rayno.

Sophs Capture Olympics Title For Second Year

By KAY CONRAD

The sophomore class emerged victorious from the 1960 Barry Olympics, which took place Apr. 7. This all-day affair began with Mass and was followed by breakfast. Opening with prayer, the lighting of the torch was by Sister Grace Elies. The presentation of banners followed. Each class won at least one main event. For the seniors, the sport was baseball. The sophomores were triumphant in swimming.

In the minor events, the seniors were the winners in tennis. The sophomores scored successes in ping pong, javelin and horseshoes. Track and field events were handled by the Freshmen.

The featuring exhibition in fencing was held between Sandy Riley and Marty Sconochek. The sophomores scored successes in ping pong, javelin and horseshoes. Track and field events were handled by the Freshmen.
He Died and Did Rise for All Men’s Sins

Isolation -- No Excuse

Isolation, we can’t let it get us down! You’re absolutely right, it’s a tough environment. There are no other schools like us for hundreds of miles. True, we can’t have competitive sports for lack of competition.

True, we can’t bolster our school spirit by having a rival school. Granted, we have no Trinity, or Saint Mary’s or Mundelein in the area. All alone we are on the Florida peninsula, the only fortress of higher education for Catholic women.

We cannot depend on comparison to motivate us. Of ourselves we must excel. Of ourselves we must nurture our spirit. Isolated and different we stand.

Different we must be, proud we must be of our difference.

CANDIDS:

Typing Term Papers: Numbering Days

By KAY CONRAD

Comparable to the pitter-patter of little feet is the clitter clatter of the typewriter keys in the Freshman dorm. Sometime between Friday and Tuesday, all term papers are due. “I’ll never make it,” “I give up,” “I’m done,” are frequently heard.

They do make it; they don’t give up; and they do finish. It is a long, hard struggle, but the task gets completed.

Many long nights were spent locked in the bathroom, and days were spent submerged in note cards and first drafts. Numerous times there were almost uncontrollable urges to rip the notes to shreds. But the thought of an “F” for the quarter was too much? Oh no, nothing like that.

They do make it; they don’t give up; and they do finish. It is a long, hard struggle, but the task gets completed.

It is easy to hear remarks such as—“Ah, I got so much out of these past three days!” From the animated conversations, it is easy to forget the resolutions made at Retreat time. It is easy to lapse into the former careless habits that were supposed to be rectified by the resolutions of the Retreat.

A Retreat is only as good as it is effective. The Retreat master may be eloquent and interesting, but if the girls fail to utilize the spiritual graces offered to them, the entire purpose of a Retreat is lost. The only way to determine the success of a Retreat is to observe the reaction of the retreatant to the note of how they live in regard to what they have recently heard. Here, the test of time determines the success.

Note that the Retreat is two months past, and the freedom of summer is fast approaching. It will warm in February to recall Father Gower’s admonition at the close of the Retreat—“Be mindful of your dignity, oh Christian!”

Exodus by Leon Urs is a book of many stories. The main story is of the return of the Jews to their homeland after two thousand years. Besides the force and power of this narrative, the characters often become lost, with the many flashbacks further complicating the story thread.

The people of Exodus are sometimes true to life, sometimes fictional and sometimes a combination of both. The Aron Ben Cnam, the freedom-fighter and crick agent of the Israelis, is obviously true, although termed by some to be an idealist. Mark Parker could be any probing foreign correspondent as Kitty Fre.

A Retreat is only as good as it is effective. The Retreat master may be eloquent and interesting, but if the girls fail to utilize the spiritual graces offered to them, the entire purpose of a Retreat is lost. The only way to determine the success of a Retreat is to observe the reaction of the retreatant to the note of how they live in regard to what they have recently heard. Here, the test of time determines the success.

Note that the Retreat is two months past, and the freedom of summer is fast approaching. It will warm in February to recall Father Gower’s admonition at the close of the Retreat—“Be mindful of your dignity, oh Christian!”

The people of Exodus are sometimes true to life, sometimes fictional and sometimes a combination of both. The Aron Ben Cnam, the freedom-fighter and crick agent of the Israelis, is obviously true, although termed by some to be an idealist. Mark Parker could be any probing foreign correspondent as Kitty Fre.

Isolated and different we stand.

Different we must be, proud we must be of our difference.

Will Religion Determine Sen. Kennedy’s Success?

By JERE BASCH

This summer the Democratic National Convention will meet to elect a nominee for President. One of the top contenders is Senator John Kennedy. Not since Al Smith has a Catholic been so close to the Presidency. Will religion affect his chances of being nominated? If he is nominated how will his religion react? Will religion strain his relationships with the Catholic world? What is the reason people give for voting for or against him? What is the reason people give for voting for or against him? What is the reason people give for voting for or against him? What is the reason people give for voting for or against him?

A survey of 91 Barry college students was conducted in an effort to answer these questions. The analysis of these efforts can be studied in terms of two groups, the Catholics and the non-Catholics.

The number of Democrats in both groups was approximately the same as the number of non-Democrats. Of the Catholic students, 17 listed themselves as bi-partisan or as having no party leanings. Of the non-Catholics there were more bi-partisans.

A question on a survey was asked: “Is it true that Senator Kennedy’s religion will make it harder for him to be nominated?” The results show a difference in regard to the Catholic and non-Catholic replies. Only 75 percent of the Catholics felt that Kennedy’s religion would have a bearing on his nomination, while 94 percent of the non-Catholics felt his religion would have a bearing.

When asked if they would ever vote for a Catholic for President, the students answered in the following replies. Some felt that they have no personal opinion in regard to the church, others feared that his religion would interfere with his personal views. A large plurality of Catholics and the majority of non-Catholics felt they would vote for a Catholic candidate solely on his platform. Catholicism is tied to a pride in Catholicism and a prejudice for Catholics.

Prejudice, though evidently widely held as being a primary cause of voting for or against a Catholic, is just not the reason. Some may feel that thinking a Catholic is good because Catholicism is good, is a form of prejudice. Actually it is not a familiarity with an understanding of Catholics as opposed to a lack of knowledge about other religions.

And again, some may believe that Factors of influence is prejudice, but this is also a lack of understanding about another religion.

Isolated and different we stand. Isolated and different we stand. Isolated and different we stand.

Different we must be, proud we must be of our difference.

BOOK REVIEW

Controversial Exodus by Leon Urs

The number of Democrats in both groups was approximately the same as the number of non-Democrats. Of the Catholic students, 17 listed themselves as bi-partisan or as having no party leanings. Of the non-Catholics there were more bi-partisans.

A question on a survey was asked: “Do you think that Senator Kennedy’s religion will make it harder for him to be nominated?” The results show a difference in regard to the Catholic and non-Catholic replies. Only 75 percent of the Catholics felt that Kennedy’s religion would have a bearing on his nomination, while 94 percent of the non-Catholics felt his religion would have a bearing.

When asked if they would ever vote for a Catholic for President, the students answered in the following replies. Some felt that they have no personal opinion in regard to the church, others feared that his religion would interfere with his personal views. A large plurality of Catholics and the majority of non-Catholics felt they would vote for a Catholic candidate solely on his platform. Catholicism is tied to a pride in Catholicism and a prejudice for Catholics.

Prejudice, though evidently widely held as being a primary cause of voting for or against a Catholic, is just not the reason. Some may feel that thinking a Catholic is good because Catholicism is good, is a form of prejudice. Actually it is not a familiarity with an understanding of Catholics as opposed to a lack of knowledge about other religions.

And again, some may believe that Factors of influence is prejudice, but this is also a lack of understanding about another religion.

Isolated and different we stand. Isolated and different we stand. Isolated and different we stand.

Different we must be, proud we must be of our difference.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

In reference to the feature in last month’s issue on medieciy, I’d like to point out that Barry students aren’t the only Florida collegians who have been concerned about the problem.

It seems as if a group of U. Florida students have realized the need of help on this problem. Their campus, only there is caused by state funds for education that they believe will aid in meeting their needs.

These students have banded together, and have started a movement to speak to Parent-Teacher organizations and civic clubs. Two members have already appeared before civic groups, speaking to the author intended to be that way. In his second contribution to the “Clipping File” section, the author has made naturally immense.

By the way, this movement was recognized in the New York Herald Tribune, the editor of which said “I’m glad to see some college students doing something besides stuffing phone booths!”

Maybe with a little push, we could all do something better than stuffing phone booths. But when do the final grades come out?
D. S. O. Presents Annual Social

Television celebrity Bob Clayton emceed a round of contests and entertainment at the Father-Daughter Social held in the Social Hall, Apr. 3. An Easter version of "That's night to shine" spotlighted one of the stars of the "Don and Bob Show" in a program that "brought Dad back to the days of his youth."

Another highlight of the entertainment featured the fathers themselves as they completed in a spot-light dance contest, and a look-alike contest.

Mr. Paul Raymo climbed the ladder to victory in the spelling bee, and Lorettta Matus and Mr. Matus; Mary Jo Boky and Mr. Boky won the dance contest.

Mr. Arthur Dennison and his daughter Kathy won the look-alike contest.

The social was under the general chairmanship of Louise Sullivan and was the third sponsored by Delta Sigma Omegas.

Other committees were Renate Williams, Kathy Posoreck and Janice Rocchio.

(Continued on Page 4)

Thimble Theater

Now that the Father-Daughter social is past, Louise Sullivan can relax for a little while. Looking forward to graduating in June, Louise finds it hard to believe that four years at Barry have gone by already.

Louise is an elementary education major, and plans to teach in the lower grades next year.

A native Floridian, Louise lives in Opa-Locka, but even as a day hop she finds time for many extra-curricular activities. She is secretary of the Senior class, chairman of Our Lady's committee of the Sodality and the Science club. When free moments come, Louise devotes them to reading which she considers both relaxing and enjoyable.

With Easter vacation approaching, Evelyn Selina is eagerly making elaborate plans for her trip home. A member of the junior class, Evelyn lives in Caguas, Puerto Rico. She is majoring in dietetics and hopes to work in a hospital in Puerto Rico after graduation.

Evelyn is looking forward to next year when she will be a senior just as her sister was when Evelyn first came to Barry. During the past three years, she has been a member of the Home Ec club, the Foreign Students' club and the Spanish club.

Evelyn enjoys listening to her records on her rather large Hi-Fi which has made almost as many trips back and forth in the past three years as Evelyn has herself.

Art Display Shows Drawings, History Of Old Crucifixes

The art department showcases are now displaying drawings of ancient crucifixes which have been done by artists at Barry. Some of the sketches are assignments in research drawing and are being shown at Barry from Sienna College through April 15.

In addition to some quality drawings, the display offers information concerning the making and makers of ancient crucifixes. Previous to the 14th century Christian iconography indicates the mystery of darkness by representing the sun and moon above the cross. Its marked characteristics in northern countries seemed to include the soldiers at either side of the Cross with lance and staff slanted toward the Figure in the center. Recent centuries show frequently used images of the Crucified with the feet affixed with a single nail. Before 1400 AD such representations were rare. The traditional use of four nails indicated a kingly kinglyness and dignity not found when the historic element of crucifixation were stressed.

Beach Parties Held Recently By Senior's and Nurses' Assn.

The Senior Class, in an effort to raise money for their school gift fund, invited the student body to a picnic Apr. 5. The affair which lasted from 3:30 to 8:30 was held at Haulover Beach. Ginny Lautz and Judy O'Neill were co-chairmen.

The Nursing Students' Association held its annual beach party and picnic at Crandon Park, Apr. 2. Chaperoned by Mrs. Ajello, Miss Poles and Miss Paimi, the all day affair was organized by social chairman Joan Schmitz and Ruth Luttrell.
If you are 21
Then Check Here
Before You Vote

If you are 21 years old, you have the duty to vote. Do you know the procedures involved in the state of Florida? Assuming that you’re some­what dubious, those are the facts.
First and foremost you must be 21 and be able to present written proof thereof; Registration for Dale County is received at West Flo­gler Street, Miami, Florida.
Residence requirements vary in every state, that of Florida being one your a resident of the state and six months of the county.
A literacy test is not required. The voter must be a United States Citizen and be able to prove it.
Property qualifications are not necessary. Registration remains permanent in all regions.

Lambda Sigma met Sunday, April 10, under the direction of Sr. Tri­nita.
The topic discussed was “The Eco­nomic Aspect of Communism.” The question was, “Does the Communist State deal directly with the common man or do they have a middle man like the U.S.A.?”
Sr. Ruth Albert and Sr. Thomas Aquina were guests at this meeting.
A panel discussion was presented on the Ecumenical Council.
The chairman, Mary K. Frost, opened the discussion with the Creed, stressing the word “one.” She de­fined ecumenical as universal.
Simon informed the audience that 2700 members of the clergy would attend the Council in Rome on Dec. 8, probably in 1960. Latin would be the language used.
Karen Smith presented a brief sketch of the Greek Schism in the eleventh century and the Protestant Revolt in the sixteenth century. She con­sidered with the fact that before the Greeks can have an active voice in the Council, they will have to sum a decree acknowledging the infallibility of the Pope.

The political viewpoints were then discussed. The books were com­pared with other epic-type writings. The political viewpoints were then defined in the light of the historical background.

Another type of conducting is done by Sr. Thomas Catherine who has been “teaching her creative writing classed to the accompaniment of Be­diah’s power lawn mower.”
Freshman Paul Kostrowisky has found a cure for her freckles—not iodine, nor baking soda, nor shade­seeking, but lemon. She uses lemons every night to bleach them out.

Sophomore Barb Scully did a very impressive virtuoso dance two weeks ago after she had been brainwashed by an exam. She knelt on her knees, pounded her fists on the floor, and uttered very incoherent grunts. What was it? No one knows, but another student suggested that she might have been praying oriental style since she was facing Mecca.

eware.

Mr. Davis discussed the party on both the local and national levels, and made some interesting personal predictions concerning the upcoming presidential election.
At the Democratic Nominating Convention to be held this summer, Mr. Davis said, Stevenson will prob­ably receive the presidential nomi­nation as a compromise on about the tenth ballot. Kennedy would then re­ceive the vice-presidential nomina­tion. Mr. Davis thinks the Republican ticket will most likely be Nixon and Mitchell.

Mr. Davis also stated that sixty percent of the people who will cast ballots will vote on personalities and issues, not party affiliations.

T. V. SHOWS
Watch for this show on T.V.; Apr. 24, Channel 7, 3:30 P.M.; The Candidate—1961.

REMEMBER WITH FLOWERS AND GIFTS
ANTHONY’S FLORIST
FRUIT
WE TELEGRAPH FLOWERS
SHIPPING
GREETING CARDS - STAMPS - GIFT NOVELTIES
11603 N. E. 2nd Avenue
Phone PL 1-0900

MIAMI SHORES BAKERY
Wedding and Birthday Cakes Our Specialty
9714 N. E. 2nd Avenue
Phone PL 9-5515

THE ONE AND ONLY
Denny’s
Beauty Salon
We welcome the Students to our Salon
Phone PLaza 4-3313
11510 N. E. 2nd Avenue

IMAGINATIVE GREETING CARDS
AMERICAN COMPANY
318 S. Dixie Highway
Phone PLaza 4-3222

ANGELICUS
Barry College
Miami 38, Fla.

Page Four

Page Three

Page Two

Page One

Page Four

Page Three

Page Two

Page One

Page Four

Page Three

Page Two

Page One

Page Four

Page Three

Page Two

Page One

Page Four

Page Three

Page Two

Page One

Page Four

Page Three

Page Two

Page One