Prayer Corps Goes National

Barry's Presidential Prayer Corps has gone national, according to Linda Beruelaca, Student Prefect and executive chairman in charge of the campaign.

A nationwide campaign has been launched by the Sodality to establish PPC chapters similar to that set up by Barry in Catholic colleges throughout the country.

An extensive mailing list has been prepared, and information concerning PPC objectives, methods and organization plus publicity from local papers will be sent to the colleges.

In addition, Barry's campaign has covered in all Catholic newspapers throughout the country. Responses to this publicity have already arrived from several Northwestern and Southern colleges.

A letter was also sent to President Kennedy this week reporting the campaign. The president is expected to come on the campus. In it, Linda expressed hope that a project such as the Prayer Corps would offer consolation to him in this time of national crises.

The letter also stressed that this way, as college students who can not actively serve in the Armed Forces by the Peace Corps and has not’s means to support them financially, are fulfilling our college's purpose.

Mail Trickles In

Responses to publicity about Barry's Sodality-sponsored Presidential Prayer Corps are bringing optimism to Sodality speakershaedg the national PPC drive. One such response is printed below. It is the first received by Linda Beruelaca, Student Prefect and executive director of the program.

Presidential Prayer Corps
Barry College
Miami, Florida

*Dear Sponsors:

I have just read in the Louisville Record of your wonderful organization, and was wondering if we may have some of your cards, pamphlets and insignias.

We are just a small group trying to lend our voices towards bettering conditions. In the way through Catholic thought and action.

Your splendid idea of praying for President and his advisors is certainly needed in this crucial time.

With best wishes and renewed thanks,

K. R. Zoeller
St. Andrew Bobola Society*

Prayer Corps and Barry's PPC have gone national, but in the past few years, introduced programs similar to STS and the expansion of the project to fifty states and overseas.

Application forms for Student Tutoring aid are available from any instructor; students are urged to inquire about the program. Address applications and inquiries to F. O. Box 175, Barry College Post Office, or to S. Burke, Sophomore Class.

Shed Initiates Culture Series

On Oct. 22, Dr. Frank Shed, noted Catholic theologian, will open the Barry College Culture Series for the year.

The series, which is sponsored by the Student Christian Movement and the Barry student body, will include four programs on the theme of "Theology and Sanity", with guest speakers from various colleges throughout the country.

In addition, Barry's PPC will be sent to the colleges.

In Barry's PPC campaign, 563 out of 16,000 Barry students have pledged to pray for President Kennedy this week reporting the campaign. The president is expected to come on the campus. In it, Linda expressed hope that a project such as the Prayer Corps would offer consolation to him in this time of national crises.

The letter also stressed that this way, as college students who can not actively serve in the Armed Forces by the Peace Corps and has not’s means to support them financially, are fulfilling our college's purpose.

Mail Trickles In

Responses to publicity about Barry's Sodality-sponsored Presidential Prayer Corps are bringing optimism to Sodality speakershaedg the national PPC drive. One such response is printed below. It is the first received by Linda Beruelaca, Student Prefect and executive director of the program.

Presidential Prayer Corps
Barry College
Miami, Florida

*Dear Sponsors:

I have just read in the Louisville Record of your wonderful organization, and was wondering if we may have some of your cards, pamphlets and insignias.

We are just a small group trying to lend our voices towards bettering conditions. In the way through Catholic thought and action.

Your splendid idea of praying for President and his advisors is certainly needed in this crucial time.

With best wishes and renewed thanks,

K. R. Zoeller
St. Andrew Bobola Society*

Prayer Corps and Barry's PPC have gone national, but in the past few years, introduced programs similar to STS and the expansion of the project to fifty states and overseas.

Application forms for Student Tutoring aid are available from any instructor; students are urged to inquire about the program. Address applications and inquiries to F. O. Box 175, Barry College Post Office, or to S. Burke, Sophomore Class.

Shed Initiates Culture Series

On Oct. 22, Dr. Frank Shed, noted Catholic theologian, will open the Barry College Culture Series for the year.

The series, which is sponsored by the Student Christian Movement and the Barry student body, will include four programs on the theme of "Theology and Sanity", with guest speakers from various colleges throughout the country.

In addition, Barry's PPC will be sent to the colleges.

In Barry's PPC campaign, 563 out of 16,000 Barry students have pledged to pray for President Kennedy this week reporting the campaign. The president is expected to come on the campus. In it, Linda expressed hope that a project such as the Prayer Corps would offer consolation to him in this time of national crises.

The letter also stressed that this way, as college students who can not actively serve in the Armed Forces by the Peace Corps and has not’s means to support them financially, are fulfilling our college's purpose.

Mail Trickles In

Responses to publicity about Barry's Sodality-sponsored Presidential Prayer Corps are bringing optimism to Sodality speakershaedg the national PPC drive. One such response is printed below. It is the first received by Linda Beruelaca, Student Prefect and executive director of the program.

Presidential Prayer Corps
Barry College
Miami, Florida

*Dear Sponsors:

I have just read in the Louisville Record of your wonderful organization, and was wondering if we may have some of your cards, pamphlets and insignias.

We are just a small group trying to lend our voices towards bettering conditions. In the way through Catholic thought and action.

Your splendid idea of praying for President and his advisors is certainly needed in this crucial time.

With best wishes and renewed thanks,

K. R. Zoeller
St. Andrew Bobola Society*

Prayer Corps and Barry's PPC have gone national, but in the past few years, introduced programs similar to STS and the expansion of the project to fifty states and overseas.

Application forms for Student Tutoring aid are available from any instructor; students are urged to inquire about the program. Address applications and inquiries to F. O. Box 175, Barry College Post Office, or to S. Burke, Sophomore Class.

Shed Initiates Culture Series

On Oct. 22, Dr. Frank Shed, noted Catholic theologian, will open the Barry College Culture Series for the year.

The series, which is sponsored by the Student Christian Movement and the Barry student body, will include four programs on the theme of "Theology and Sanity", with guest speakers from various colleges throughout the country.

In addition, Barry's PPC will be sent to the colleges.

In Barry's PPC campaign, 563 out of 16,000 Barry students have pledged to pray for President Kennedy this week reporting the campaign. The president is expected to come on the campus. In it, Linda expressed hope that a project such as the Prayer Corps would offer consolation to him in this time of national crises.

The letter also stressed that this way, as college students who can not actively serve in the Armed Forces by the Peace Corps and has not’s means to support them financially, are fulfilling our college's purpose.

Mail Trickles In

Responses to publicity about Barry's Sodality-sponsored Presidential Prayer Corps are bringing optimism to Sodality speakershaedg the national PPC drive. One such response is printed below. It is the first received by Linda Beruelaca, Student Prefect and executive director of the program.

Presidential Prayer Corps
Barry College
Miami, Florida

*Dear Sponsors:

I have just read in the Louisville Record of your wonderful organization, and was wondering if we may have some of your cards, pamphlets and insignias.

We are just a small group trying to lend our voices towards bettering conditions. In the way through Catholic thought and action.

Your splendid idea of praying for President and his advisors is certainly needed in this crucial time.

With best wishes and renewed thanks,

K. R. Zoeller
St. Andrew Bobola Society*
Nurses' training is full of little plateaus; there are so many Firsts, and such one brings the pink-clad Nightingales closer to the Chapel and the Priest's bestowing hand, and the coveted nurses' cap.

What a cheerful event cupping will be! A full year of work—hard, but so rewarding, in that it gives a sense of accomplishment, of many, many memories.

All sizes and shapes of remembrances are related without too much prompting when these goals are coaxed. They tell of the classroom that is the hospital, where everyone is a patient, and how they become, little by little, knowledgeable and expert. Nurses know how to laugh and our nurses do. They laugh at themselves that the latter is organized confusion, but worth any effort — Hoyt.

Our nurses have special place in our hearts. They were chosen for the 36th Street Causeway, Sr. Loretta Michael told the students who called Barry College for Women and ask for Louis.

Kathy Pappas mistook the doctor for an orderly and asked him to feed a patient; Marilyn Marsh stuffed a wet diaper into the dining room.

There are two things in life. Through them are new food and nourishment in the classroom, their choir practice peaked, a college of coral rock, mysterious sea, fierce sea curdle in the desert sun. The little boys are once again filtering through said ominous object. A small incongruity in a state that has a monopoly on the sale of Vitamin D.

It did not, of course, block out all vestiges of enthusiasm and spirit. What it blocked out was the world—or at least an active concern for what was happening in the world.

With the onslaught, however, of the fall of 1961 and almost 600 full-time students, Barry has either been addressed or has been given a new, more mature, more dynamic identity. The Student Council, wider range of objectives, the Mission Committee's exerts Mission Sunday campaign, the faculty reading program committee, the wider objectives of the college effected by the self-study program—are some of the more obvious manifestations of this concern evident in the gamut of campus activities.

The chance is flattering. If these germs develop to maturity, the change will be as effective as a face-lifting.
In observation of United Nations Day Oct. 24, Barry's campus will be dotted with posters, special bulletin boards and other activities designed to acquaint women on the campus with the United Nations and arouse them to assume the active interest necessary to make the organization effective.

The observation will also mark the initiation of an asked campus campaign to arouse students' national and international awareness.

Plans for the day were announced by Angela W. Beal, national chairman of the National Students' Association Correspondence, of which Barry is a member, which will direct observation activities.

Information materials will include, in addition to resource data, guides to world problems, forms for personal action. Programs adopted by the Col- legiate Council for the United Na- tions Day, will be coordinated with the activities of the National Students' Association.

The theme for Barry's observance will be "United Nations Day—A world united for peace." The day will be celebrated directly from the United Nations calendar which states that UN Day "symbolizes the part- nership of peoples working together for peace and freedom. Its challenge is to make that partnership so ef- fective that peace and prosperity shall prevail."

UN Day is celebrated throughout the world and is intended to commemorate the date on which the United Nations Charter became effective: Oct. 24, 1945. It was first celebrated in 1947 when the General Assembly passed an American-sponsored resolution sub- mitting - that "Oct. 24 shall be observed as United Nations Day" and shall be devoted to making known to the people of the world the aims and achievements of the United Nations and to gaining their support for the work of the United Nations.

The observance has a twofold pur- pose: to acquaint the world with the United Nations and to arouse sufficient interest in the organization so that world unity and purpose is made more forceful with close scrutiny of the UN Charter which provides that the day shall be devoted to studying the aims and achievements of the United Nations "are determined to save and maintain generations from the scourge of war."

Peace Corps Rejects Controversial Missionary

(UPS) Charles Kamens, a volunteer for the Peace Corps who broke into a German military camp in March in Mobile, Ala., and was arrested. The court, however, is saying that it did not include keeping East Germany open after this event as a result of the East German government's actions.

No one can say, however, that we had to be in the East German capital city of East Berlin, which it has never been, if the situation were to change at any time. The East German government has made decisions concerning the situation in Berlin that must be followed.

The Buck Passes On...

It is for this reason that the Society of the Challenger to the United Nations has adopted directly from the United Nations Charter. The Catholic Youth Organization, which has sponsored the Peace Corps, is the challenge that such a program can have still failed to realize that insidi- ous waves are as much an attack as conventional ones. We are ultimately more pervadingly handled.

The West Berliners are supposedly well aware of the need for peace in Germany but not recognizing it; to respect the Oder-Niesser border, but not to accept East Germany's per- manent border. They would permit peace to exist, but would not turn the city over to the U.S.,” They would never accept any unilater- al decision, in this case the UN, by some that there are only minor moral concessions but we can permit this and ur influence our aims will or we merely be retreating and saying they so that if necessary our government can still say they “did their best’”

Marcia De Lucca

Barry's freshman class sports an outstanding student, acclaimed for her work on the campus, she interviewed for the Peace Corps who broke into a German military camp in March in Mobile, Ala., and was arrested. The court, however, is saying that it did not include keeping East Germany open after this event as a result of the East German government's actions.

No one can say, however, that we had to be in the East German capital city of East Berlin, which it has never been, if the situation were to change at any time. The East German government has made decisions concerning the situation in Berlin that must be followed.

The Buck Passes On...

It is for this reason that the Society of the Challenger to the United Nations has adopted directly from the United Nations Charter. The Catholic Youth Organization, which has sponsored the Peace Corps, is the challenge that such a program can have still failed to realize that insidi- ous waves are as much an attack as conventional ones. We are ultimately more pervadingly handled.

The West Berliners are supposedly well aware of the need for peace in Germany but not recognizing it; to respect the Oder-Niesser border, but not to accept East Germany's per- manent border. They would permit peace to exist, but would not turn the city over to the U.S.,” They would never accept any unilater- al decision, in this case the UN, by some that there are only minor moral concessions but we can permit this and ur influence our aims will or we merely be retreating and saying they so that if necessary our government can still say they “did their best’”

Marcia De Lucca

Barry's freshman class sports an outstanding student, acclaimed for her work on the campus, she interviewed for the Peace Corps who broke into a German military camp in March in Mobile, Ala., and was arrested. The court, however, is saying that it did not include keeping East Germany open after this event as a result of the East German government's actions.

No one can say, however, that we had to be in the East German capital city of East Berlin, which it has never been, if the situation were to change at any time. The East German government has made decisions concerning the situation in Berlin that must be followed.

The Buck Passes On...

It is for this reason that the Society of the Challenger to the United Nations has adopted directly from the United Nations Charter. The Catholic Youth Organization, which has sponsored the Peace Corps, is the challenge that such a program can have still failed to realize that insidi- ous waves are as much an attack as conventional ones. We are ultimately more pervadingly handled.

The West Berliners are supposedly well aware of the need for peace in Germany but not recognizing it; to respect the Oder-Niesser border, but not to accept East Germany's per- manent border. They would permit peace to exist, but would not turn the city over to the U.S.,” They would never accept any unilater- al decision, in this case the UN, by some that there are only minor moral concessions but we can permit this and ur influence our aims will or we merely be retreating and saying they so that if necessary our government can still say they “did their best’”

Marcia De Lucca

Barry's freshman class sports an outstanding student, acclaimed for her work on the campus, she interviewed for the Peace Corps who broke into a German military camp in March in Mobile, Ala., and was arrested. The court, however, is saying that it did not include keeping East Germany open after this event as a result of the East German government's actions.

No one can say, however, that we had to be in the East German capital city of East Berlin, which it has never been, if the situation were to change at any time. The East German government has made decisions concerning the situation in Berlin that must be followed.

The Buck Passes On...

It is for this reason that the Society of the Challenger to the United Nations has adopted directly from the United Nations Charter. The Catholic Youth Organization, which has sponsored the Peace Corps, is the challenge that such a program can have still failed to realize that insidi- ous waves are as much an attack as conventional ones. We are ultimately more pervadingly handled.

The West Berliners are supposedly well aware of the need for peace in Germany but not recognizing it; to respect the Oder-Niesser border, but not to accept East Germany's per- manent border. They would permit peace to exist, but would not turn the city over to the U.S.,” They would never accept any unilater- al decision, in this case the UN, by some that there are only minor moral concessions but we can permit this and ur influence our aims will or we merely be retreating and saying they so that if necessary our government can still say they “did their best’”

Marcia De Lucca

Barry's freshman class sports an outstanding student, acclaimed for her work on the campus, she interviewed for the Peace Corps who broke into a German military camp in March in Mobile, Ala., and was arrested. The court, however, is saying that it did not include keeping East Germany open after this event as a result of the East German government's actions.

No one can say, however, that we had to be in the East German capital city of East Berlin, which it has never been, if the situation were to change at any time. The East German government has made decisions concerning the situation in Berlin that must be followed.

The Buck Passes On...

It is for this reason that the Society of the Challenger to the United Nations has adopted directly from the United Nations Charter. The Catholic Youth Organization, which has sponsored the Peace Corps, is the challenge that such a program can have still failed to realize that insidi- ous waves are as much an attack as conventional ones. We are ultimately more pervadingly handled.

The West Berliners are supposedly well aware of the need for peace in Germany but not recognizing it; to respect the Oder-Niesser border, but not to accept East Germany's per- manent border. They would permit peace to exist, but would not turn the city over to the U.S.,” They would never accept any unilater- al decision, in this case the UN, by some that there are only minor moral concessions but we can permit this and ur influence our aims will or we merely be retreating and saying they so that if necessary our government can still say they “did their best’”
College Briefs

Never before in history have there been such diverse and pressing needs on the U.S. educational system. In meeting these needs, the United Nations endorsed Revolutionary effects of the emergence of under-developed nations and countries as the phenomenon in enrollments and consequent shortage of teachers requires a re-evaluation of contemporary education.

For this reason the UNSSA will hold a conference on the "Aims of Education," Nov. 17-19. The conference is supported by the Johnson Foundation, and will be held in Wisconsin.

The conference will cover four main topics:
1. What are the aims of education?
2. Define education.
3. What should be the aims of education?
4. Is American Education capable of taking the necessary steps to improve itself? Can it provoke the leaders to deal with the international and domestic problems Ameri­can must face? What is and should be the role of the students in defining and attaining the aims of education?

Because UNSSA is particularly concerned with the student's participation in the educational process, the emphasis here will be on the students' opportunities for assuming responsibility for charting educational goals, and the role they can play in insuring students in the discussion and implementation of educational poli­cies.

Social Board Sets Year's Objectives

By Diane Balconis

The objectives and plans for this year's Social Board were announced by Campus Queen Rita Roesler at a Board meeting held recently. "Each and every member of the Board will be placed emphatically on the enthusiasm of the students—not only off campus but on. The Board would like to see more efficient preparation over employment, will advise him whether to fight the communism stifling their nation was founded—encourage positive action by being a good citi­zen; second, education in the virtues of democracy and free enterprise as opposed to communism and slavery; third, spread the truth.

Wee Ones To Barry By Joan De Pau

In an attempt to awaken Americans to fight the communism stifling their nation's freedom, Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Elliot of Miami instigated the idea for days of Rededication to God and Coun­try. Sat., Oct. 14 and Sunday, Oct. 15 were designated as such days.

There are three aims of this ob­server: first, to stir the whole community to mobilize the talents, skills, and abilities of the community to show the world what the United States means to the world; second, to spread the influence of the home economics professional field into the community; third, to spread the truth.

The one and only

WHITE CABS

7272 N. 2nd Avenue
Miami, Florida

RAYS ATLANTIC STATION

Phone PLaza 1-9303
11600 N. E. 2nd Ave., Miami 38, Florida

WHERE TRAVEL IS A PLEASURE

SHORES TRAVEL CENTER, INC.

9721 N. E. 2nd Avenue
Miami, Florida

PAID

WHEN YOU HAVE A FASHION PROBLEM, SEE OUR ENLARGED AND COMPLETE WORKSHOP

RAYS TRAVEL CENTER, INC.
41 50th Ave.
Miami 36, Florida

Phone PLaza 1-9303

11600 N. E. 2nd Ave., Miami 38, Florida