The "pop" art of last week was street signs, wild posters, name tags, and ribbons, and of course that famous voting machine with all the fancy curtains and adhesive tape. This week, the fade is picking up discarded posters and tear-stained or celebration-worn people. Elections are over!

Caroline Reader, a junior biology major, was voted Student Body President for the coming school year. A graduate of St. Vincent Ferrer High School, New York City, Caroline plans to attend Barry for the past three years. She holds a minor in Chemistry and Secondary Education and hopes to research or teach after graduation.

The Legion of Mary, Cor Jesu Chapter, Social Sciences Department, and Albertus Magnus Science Club are some of the organizations in which Caroline has been active. She served as Vice-President of the Science Club during her sophomore year and is now president. Among other honors, Caroline was elected "Queen for a Day."

"People have become deaf to the cries of apathy, lack of enthusiasm, lack of cooperation and so on, that we are assured of by many on the campus. It is better to repair the reasons for this attitude than to keep on complaining about it," says the New York-accepted junior. Caroline proposes a program to eradicate some of the stumbling blocks which encourage this attitude. Tentative plans for next year are having the Student Council composed of three branches, executive, legislative, and judicial; having a more vigorous assembly, and forming better student council meetings held in the auditorium to encourage student participation. Caroline enjoys sewing, swimming, and "walking and enjoying the scenery."

Assisting Caroline will be sophomore drama major Carol Ritchie as Vice-President of Student Council.

Having previous Student Council experience, Carol has been Freshmen Class President, Sophomore Class Representative, and member of the Executive Board. Review Board, Faculty-Student Relations Committee. In addition to participation in class activities, Carol also belongs to the Playhouse, Dean's Conference, Lambda Sigma, and she was a candidate this year for the Glamour Court at Barry. Carol holds the Edith L. Wingand Scholarship.

Social Board President Linda Wolfe, a junior nursing student, is a member of Lambda Sigma, Nursing Students Association, and Social Board. This year as Social Chairman of the Junior-Junior Prom, Linda is chairman of the Junior-Junior Prom. She has also been a member of Student Council and the Cor Jesu Choir.

Ellen Fallon, the new Secretary-Treasurer of Student Council, is a Sophomore Nursing Student from Miami, Florida. She is active in Beth Keppa Kappa and NSA.

Angelics Editor Widens Beat Toward Future Career Goals

Happiness is . . . a paper put to bed. But for Judy Antonellia the editor of this year's Angelics, Happiness is . . . the pursuing of information, the writing of articles, the editing of copy, and the paining of the press. She is not alone, however, as Judy, a senior history major, with minors in journalism, French, and political science, has combined two interests in a common goal — the Angelics.

This goal rests upon a basic ideal, that of a well informed journalist, a writer who is constantly seeking new information and new ideas, and one who has the three principles of journalism: to inform, to guide, and to entertain.

Judy has exercised these ideals in establishing a more vital Angelics. She has strived to improve the layout and photography and install in her staff the need for a more professional interpretation of the news.

For the future, Judy plans gradual study in journalism, further preparing herself for news writing.

At Barry she has been active in Student Council, Tara Singers, Angelics, and this year she was named Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges. She also participates in her parish CCD and Legion of Mary.

On May 1, Barry art students will sponsor the opening of their annual exhibit, to be held in the auditorium, the first time in the North Miami Auditorium.

Final selection of the works to be exhibited is now being completed by Sr. Mary Joseph James of the Art Department. Representatives from the painting, drawing, ceramic, printing, and design classes will be on display for all Barry students and interested friends.

Business Department

Announces New Program

Barry’s present two-year business program will be replaced by a four-year program leading to a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration. The new program will be offered by the Business Administration Department, including courses in Accounting, Marketing, Management, and Economics. The program, in which the student may also receive teacher certification, will open in the areas of Business Administration.

Organ accompaniment will be provided by Colene Dembriski, who will also music major; piano accompaniment by Diane Travnikar, who has been active in the Student Council; and Sr. Mary Beth Dinkins, who plans to attend Barry for the past three years. She holds a minor in Chemistry and Secondary Education and hopes to research or teach after graduation.

How Does Experience Rate?

Shall experience be the determining pre-requisite for the president's office of the Student Council as opposed to the qualification of popularity? This knotty problem is now the subject of review before the Council and is destined for a vote next month.

It would be politic for your Cub Edition of the Angelicus to remain neutral. The importance of the matter is manifest, however. The need to take a side is apparent and the unreasonable sin of a neutral expression cannot be justified.

True, our position may alienate some. Alienation of such few would appear to be inconsequential. If there is a possibility to provide guidance to the Council members behooves us to take the decision.

Article One - Section Two of the Student Council Constitution reads: "The object of this organization shall be to coordinate all campus organizations, in order to guide and enlighten recognized campus leadership." It reflects the essential of experienced leadership and is destined for a vote next month.

I have found the Barry girls to be especially generous with their time on many occasions. I think it is important that some recognition be given to them in your "Editor's Mail Box." In effect, I want to express my gratitude on behalf of the School of Social Work and those professional social workers who have come from this campus. In particular, I would like to thank the following girls for their help: Peggy O'Grady, Sister Eddie, Kathleen Krogman, Sandra Post, Susan Postula, and Mary Catherine Ungar Sheri Dal Pra.

Second Semester Examination Schedule to set us behind for a week, two weeks, or even more.

We are now into second quarter, spurred on to success by a blue reminder that arrived during the height of our holiday fun. Again a mental resolution but by some unnotable means we were back in the situation I think it deserves a little thought.

Considering that a great majority of us are in the same position, it seems rather useless to write about a subject that probably cannot be brought up in the usual context. True, our position may alienate some. Alienation of such few would appear to be inconsequential. If this many students are dissatisfied, then many more must be also, and would there be a possibility to provide guidance to the Council members behooves us to take the decision. A drive has begun to raise the remaining $200,000 needed to build and furnish the music hall.

And Three Weeks Later

The causes for these procrastinations were both excusable and well, questionable. Our intentions for the spring term but by some unnotable means we were back in the situation. I think it deserves a little thought.

Considering that a great majority of us are in the same position. The text of Section Two is concise, descriptive and point reflects the essential of experienced leadership in the Student Council body.

But how can that leadership be asserted than through a presidential candidate previously prepared for and familiar with the purpose of each campus organization, faculty standards, and the attendant personnel in Barry activities.

In its deliberation the Council should remember that experience would place the president's office on trial, possibly degrading its importance. The prestige and power of the office should not be risked now and for the future.

The affairs of Barry College are at stake. If an atmosphere of doubt exists, the Council is urged to recognize possibilities in the upcoming vote. Let those candidates bestowed with positions next week other campus honors. The office of the Student Council president should remain for the experienced.

The staff of Angelicus reminds its readers to keep Monsignor Barry in their prayers.

He feels that there has been an interest in and interest to the College. The election procedure changed somewhat with the use of sample ballots that are being distributed at the current times. The editor is happy to write to the Barron Earle Robinson, current President. Under the clause in the constitution, the students are suspended from Tallahassee and Gov. Haydon Burns. The charges against the students included "bias, inaccuracy in reporting, constant and unprofessional harassment of state government officials and friends of the university, unwarranted rudeness both private and in print and in the light of the UF administrative officials, individual discrimination, libel, vendettas, wanton lack of editorial responsibility."
Donna Miller, voice major, will appear April 30 with the Miami Symphony Orchestra to under the direction of Billie O'Day, editor of the Women's Section of the Miami News. Donna will sing "Si, mi chiamano mini" from the opera La Bohème by Puccini.

On April 24 the annual Alumni Family Day was held in the Florida Garden. Physical education students entertained the children in fun and games while the parents renewed old acquaintances. The Art Department was also opened for the children's amusement. Medals were presented to the winners of the games. The day concluded with rosary and benediction.

A Medieval Festival sponsored by the Miami chapter of the American Guild of Organists was held on April 19 at the Spanish monastery in Miami. The Madrigal singers sang two Gregorian chants of the Medieval period and some thirteenth and fourteenth century madrigals.

Mr. Carroll Naves, professor in the Berry French Department, has received a Fulbright Grant at the University of Minnesota to continue his study of Medieval music.

Mr. Carroll Naves, professor in the Berry French Department, received a Fulbright Grant at the University of Minnesota to continue his studies in French during the summer. Last year Mr. Naves received a Florida Council of the Arts Fellowship.

"To Kill A Mockingbird" by the novelist Harper Lee was presented by the Habak High Players on April 18 under the direction of Miss Sandra Riley, in the Barry Auditorium.

Anne Langlois, Barry freshman, represented the college in a discussion on migrant workers on April 24 at Channel 7.

Margarita received an assistantship to Marquette University, an English major from New York with a minor in Elementary Education.

Another Miamian, Pat Fry, a Home Economics major with a minor in Elementary Education, was named Miss Future Secretary. Miss Fry will model clothes in conjunction with Sears, Roebuck and Co. The purpose was to show not only the appropriate dress for a dinner-date, but also, how to add accessories for a dinner-date.

The idea behind the picnic is not only to foster better relations between the faculty and students, but also to show appreciation to the faculty for all they have done this year. This is a meaningful day for the seniors since it might be the last time to express a special and last thanks to the faculty.

The whole day is dedicated to this idea, with students assigned to faculty members to help them with any errands or chores. These students and teachers will wear tags that are designed to match the teacher's badge. The picnic will be highlighted with a concert on the steps of Thompson Hall. Girls, selected from these Future Secretaries, will perform from these Future Secretaries, modeled dresses in conjunction with Sears, Roebuck and Co. The purpose was to show not only the appropriate dress for a dinner-date, but also, how to add accessories for a dinner-date.

The War, The Deluge, The Ice Age are over. Once more, an earthy sodden with detritus or blood, there rises the house of Antrobus. He has survived by the skin of his teeth.

The hunger and benediction.

Julie Haydon, Mary Joe Goggin, Roland Adams and Michael Brophy star in "Skin of Our Teeth." Miss Haydon, who is a famous actress of the American stage, has played in some of the best works of our age — most of which are classics. As a young girl in the 1920's, she played Titania in Midsummer Night's Dream with Mickey Rooney. Later, she appeared in one of Hollywood's first satiric movies, "The Southerner." After The Southerner, she remained mostly on the stage in New York where she has played in such works as Shadow and Substance, Skin of Our Teeth, and Glass Menagerie.

Mr. Robert Chatter, Department Manager of Royal Typewriter Company, spoke on the topic "How's Your Viewpoint?" and concluded the secretary's role in the office, but also, how to add accessories for a dinner-date.

Following the Fashion Show, a "Letterwriting Clinic" was held to help the students have a better understanding of their field and its demands.

Mr. H. R. C. William, chairman of the Miami College students' section of the Business Administration, spoke on various typing techniques and the art of writing a business letter.

On April 26, Secretarial Science Club Day began at 8:00 in the morning with each member becoming a secretary for the day. The girls carried out this idea by working for an assigned faculty member in the capacity of secretary.

The Secretarial Office in Thompson Hall was set up as a coffee shop, where the girls could take their "buses" for a coffee break. The Fashion Show was held at 7:00 p.m. in the lounge of Thompson Hall. Girls, selected from these Future Secretaries, modeled clothes in conjunction with Sears, Roebuck and Co. The purpose was to show not only the appropriate dress for a dinner-date, but also, how to add accessories for a dinner-date.

Peace Corps Trains Senior for Philippines

by Bernadette Foley

Veronica Casale, senior, has been selected for candidacy in the Peace Corps as an elementary school teacher in the Philippines.

Vee, a free lance photographer and art major will begin her training on June 25 at Stanford University in California, one of the ten training centers for the Philippines.

Veronica learned how to teach English and to also study the customs, taboos, and possibly the Philippine language, Tagalog, a mixture of Spanish, Chinese, Arabic, and Japanese. To be prepared for the 24 month term of service Vee will be under a rigorous schedule in close to the actual environment as possible. She will even have Filipino teachers.

Barry's first annual Intramural Swim Meet got off with a big splash Thursday, April 28. Initiated and organized by Mrs. Zobol's recreation class with Peggy O'Clay as over-all manager, the meet promoted class enthusiasm and the sport of swimming.

In order that more girls would join in the competition the seven events were designed for accommodating women as well as "paddlers".

WINNIE, THE POOH, a favorite of all Little students, will be presented in Stella Maris April 13-15. Mary Jo Goggi, a Junior drama major, has worked with the children from St. James School to produce the play.

Peace Corps in high school when the late President Kennedy inaugurated it. The thought of joining has "remained in the back of my mind ever since.

Before taking the Peace Corps Placement Test in December of 1965, Vee accompanied Sister Mary Joseph to Japan where they attended the International Art Teachers Conference. There she fell in love with the courtesy and friendliness of the Japanese people and in fact all Oriental peoples.

In applying to the Corps late December, she specified the Orient as a preference should she be accepted. The new learning in Japan impressed Vee with an awe for new things and widened horizons. She says it was like "a whole half of my brain expended."

Vee chose the Peace Corps over other organizations because it is more "organized" and "it is easier to give of yourself" in a foreign country. She wants to "communicate" with the people of the Philippines and show them what "Americans are really like" while learning from them what the Filipinos are really like. Vee plans to inform the people in the States of this "exchange of environments" by sending home a monthly mimeographed letter.

Vee is currently Student Organizations Coordinator for the Student Council in charge of collecting data on the National Student Association. She is also Angelicus photographer, memory book photographer, and was Treasurer of the Legion of Mary for three years.

The group will jet back to Rome and do some sightseeing cathedral hopping, and of course Italian theater going before they return to the States.

A European study and tour is planned by Mr. Neaves in connection with the French and Spanish Departments. Students may take advantage of any one or all of the different phases of the trip. It includes a three week tour of Paris, London, Geneva, Lausanne, Lucerne, Zurich, Vienna, Florence and Rome. Students will then go to their respective study areas: the University of Tours or the University of Granada. Courses will be available in all levels of French or Spanish.

The Mental Health Association of Dade County is sponsoring a Health Forum of the University of Miami, tomorrow, April 30. Sr. Elaine, O.P., M.S.W., head of Barry's Sociology Dept., will be on one of the Forum's panels, discussing the topic, 'Grieving Good and Bad.'
